

As a lover of both wine and Indian food I was delighted to be asked to compile a wine list to accompany Quilon's menu. The sophisticated spicing and flavours of Sriram Aylur's contemporary south – west coastal Indian cooking can make exciting combinations with wine.

While all of the wines on Quilon's list have been chosen because of their quality and character, my first goal was to find wines that offered drinking pleasure. Many of these wines are classics, from well-known European appellations and top producers. Others represent the best of the New World, but I have also sought out exciting styles from emerging, lesser-known regions. There should be something for every palate.

To make it easy for you to find something that appeals to you the wines have been grouped in a variety of ways. I have used broad stylistic categories to offer guidance; some wines are grouped by variety; and others reflect their origin. 'Light, crisp & dry' whites for example should be versatile across the menu, but especially with vegetable and fish dishes; 'Sauvignon Blanc' is an incredibly popular variety which offers a range of flavours from green and herbal to tropical; while 'Mediterranean' covers not just Mediterranean origin but that warm, easy climate that produces generous wines with smooth tannins that harmonise with warm spicing, if red, and if white, soft acidity.

As well as a strong selection of classics you will find some styles and origins particularly well represented because they are versatile with Quilon's cuisine. I believe that food and wine matching is not science, but that it is possible to establish guidelines – rather than rules - for pairing food and wine. While there are certain combinations that seem natural and 'correct', the final decision should rest with you, the diner. Some of our wines may be unfamiliar to you but I would encourage you to experiment
